DCMA One Book - Chapter 5.1 Schedule and Delivery Management

e. Defense Priorities and Allocation System (DPAS) – (Reference 15 CFR 700 and DoD 4400.1-M.) The goal of DPAS is to assure the timely availability of industrial resources to meet current national defense requirements and to provide a framework for rapid industrial mobilization in case of national emergencies. The CAO DPAS Officer is to be a primary point of contact for DPAS related issues and to provide supplier/CAO training on an as needed basis. When a Special Priorities Assistance Request (Form BXA-999) is submitted the CAO DPAS Officer must determine if the information is complete and accurate, and ensure reasonable expediting efforts have been exhausted, documenting all communications and actions taken. The case must then be forwarded to the DPAS Officer at the Government activity that awarded the end item contract. Concurrently, the CAO DPAS Officer must notify the District DPAS officer. Corrective action must be requested (For levels of corrective action, refer to the PROCAS One Book Chapter) when a supplier consistently fails to meet these requirements on its DPAS rated orders.
